

LOSTASTIC

– HipHopEverything says, “Lostastic is up Next”

ARTIST BIO

Lostastic is a versatile artist, his ability to move from soft to hard sounds come seamlessly and effortlessly. This ability brings depth to his persona and gives audiences a variety of music that will entertain, empower and delight.

Lostastic has had music in his system since he was a young boy. It began with writing poetry while in the second grade. Even the complexity of the rhymes that he wrote seemed natural to him. When he was 10 years old, his cousin came to live with him, saw his poems and began transforming those words into rap. That inspired Lostastic to look at music as a form of expression and self-awareness and began competing in rap battles in school cafeterias. He was so talented that people sought him out for events such as this.

Going to college distracted him a bit but returned to what he loves more than anything. Realizing that music was his destiny, he honed in on music, writing and recording. There was no turning back now. Lostastic is currently working on two projects; his mixtape "The Los Effect" and his album "The Los Factor", both of which have no release dates at this time. Although they are both works in progress, L.O.S has taken the liberty of pre-releasing his hit single "What You Want" which is off of his yet to be released mixtape "The Los Effect".

TESTIMONIALS

- HipHopEverything said, "Lostastic is up Next"
- Omar Grant said, "You definitely can rap, you're one of the purest forms of it"

GSDFlowStudios Blog:

Small town rappers get no cred? Well I know someone who is about to change that. His Name is L.O.S, a Puerto Rican rapper fresh out of a little town called Avon Park, FL. Heard of it? Didn't think so, but you will. L.O.S has one of, if not the most diverse flows Around today. He is definitely determined to conquer the entertainment world with his easy going persona and his all-round originality.
